60 Day Purification Programme

There are three aspects relating to the body's attack on parasites:

First, the parasites must be neutralised or weakened so they will release their hold in the body's structures. Second, the dead or weakened parasites and their toxins must be flushed from your system. Third, the newly liberated systems should be supplemented with reinforcing nutrients to help regain strength and vitality. Purge, Feelin' Good, and Maximol Solutions are a powerful triad of natural products that work interactively to help achieve each of these goals through nutritional support designed for one's general needs.

1) SUPPORT THE BATTLE AGAINST PARASITES IN YOUR SYSTEM WITH PURGE

To begin the process of nutritional support for your system, take Purge as indicated on the chart. Repeat this routine every twelve months. If you wish to continue a maintenance programme to help against nutrient damage from reinfestation (especially if you travel often), simply take one or two Purge tablets every day with your morning meal.

As changes may begin to occur, you might become disorientated during this period and notice mild feelings of discomfort or tiredness. This is often caused by the gradual loss of parasites and their possible release of toxins as they attempt to protect themselves against a suddenly hostile host. Remember, your body could have been forced to compensate for their presence by taking in excess nutrients or producing parasite battling enzymes, and the rapid shift in favour of your body might be noticed as it adjusts to restore equilibrium.

2) FLUSHING YOUR SYSTEM WITH FEELIN' GOOD

As parasites weaken or die, they either lose their grip or begin to break apart and dissolve. We believe it is important to ensure that these dead or dying parasites and accompanying toxins are flushed from your system as quickly as possible.

Feelin' Good is an ideal colon-cleansing dietary fibre supplement to help your body cleanse itself of the unwanted parasites it has successfully dislodged. Its comprehensive blend of organic fibres is designed to sweep your system of loose particles, contributing to the natural movement of your bowels and assisting the cleansing process. Among these fibres are organic flax seed, widely recognised by the herbal community as a toxin absorbing fibre; echinacea, though to be a potentially beneficial immune system nutrient; and capsicum, a potentially buffering ingredient that may help offset occasional discomfort. Feelin' Good is our most perfect complement to purge, helping your body sweep away not only its usual waste, but also whatever parasites your body is able to eliminate.

3) REINVIGORATING YOUR NEWLY LIBERATED SYSTEM WITH MAXIMOL SOLUTIONS

Your body needs a constant, reliable influx of amino acids, enzymes, vitamins, and minerals to help it build, maintain, and repair cells overworked by the wear and tear of daily living. A body which has been subject to a parasite's vampiric theft of nutrients and vitality could potentially benefit even more from Maximol Solutions, an extremely rich, nutritive dietary supplement. Maximol Solutions can provide many of the building blocks your body may need to restore itself to a balanced state of health as it wins the battle with parasites.

The programme assumes that you continue an average diet, which typically includes excessive intake of fat, sugars, and caffeine.
